'Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence wins championship'.

Michael Jordan

The students of Class VII, Delhi Public School had an interesting and refreshing tryst with outdoor sports, in the form of 'The Inter House Kho-Kho Competition' organized for them by Godavari House on Thursday, 08 August 2019 in the school premises.

'Catch me if you can' is the phrase that aptly suits the IHC fielded by the budding sportsmen of grade VII last week. The teams for boys and girls were divided into four groups named after the houses: Ganga, Godavari, Kaveri and Narmada respectively. The students participated in the event with great zeal and the audience cheered for their players and team-mates in the exciting matches. This competition was organized to foster teamwork and camaraderie amongst students through physical activity. It encouraged the players to reap the benefits of good health. Each team put up a good fight to fetch maximum points for their respective teams. The matches were played on the knockout basis followed by semi-finals and a nail biting final, enjoyed thoroughly by the onlookers. It was a fine example of good sportsmanship. The First position in the Boys category was bagged by Ganga house followed by Kaveri and Godavari house and in the Girls category Kaveri won the first position followed by Narmada and Godavari house.

Principal Ma'am Ms. Shailaja Gopinath appreciated the sporting spirit of the players, encouraged students to take keen interest in sports and games and motivated them to maintain a healthy balance between academics and co-curricular activities.
